Membership Pack
2019/2020
UK Prop Social is a place for the property community to meet and discuss key issues, engage in the debate and network with fellow professionals working across the growing regional hubs which make up the Thames Valley and Oxford – Cambridge Corridor property markets.

Building upon the success of the First Tuesday Club, established in Reading in 2008, UK Prop Social will initially graft itself onto the property communities located in the key towns and cities of Aylesbury, Basingstoke, Bracknell, Cambridge, High Wycombe, Maidenhead, Oxford, Reading, Slough and Windsor.

Membership will be targeted at the property community working across the public and private sectors who deliver investment, development, property, design and construction services to the property community on new projects and schemes.

At this critical time in the region’s development, when it faces huge pressures to grow and expand its property assets, UK Prop Social will be a genuine attempt to engage in this debate and move the discussion forward by sharing information and creating relevant events for members to attend and participate in.

“A great opportunity to get to know some great people in the Thames Valley property world. I have never left without learning something new – and useful! Hats off to Matthew and his team for organising a fab forum for property people to get to know each other better.”

Simon Dimmick, Partner, Bandy & Bandy

“It’s excellent, always a really good event and I like that it is done in conjunction with Thames Valley Property. It’s really good, very welcoming and there’s good food. The relocated venue is really good as well, there is a real buzz now.”

Daniel Lampard, Director, Lichfields

"It's brilliant for networking, especially for me, coming into the industry from consulting. It's a great way to network with people from different sectors. You meet a lot of people you wouldn't meet anywhere else. I go to other events and they are not really this kind of level."

Manjit Bassi, Client Liaison Manager, ESI, part of Stantec

"Windsor is a fantastic place to live, work and do business so we were delighted to sponsor an event and help deliver a hugely successful day. There was strong attendance, with over 80 property professionals and there was excellent feedback from guests. It was a brilliant opportunity for us all to share ideas, connect, and build our company's profile within the business community."

Katy Kilner, Marketing & Communications Officer, Goldstein Legal
